

OFFICIAL RETURN OF PRIMARY VOTE

Computation on Candidates for Row Offices and Judicial and Magisterial Tickets

SMALL CHANGE IN TOTALS

Results Identical With Those Recorded in the Count Following Election

The official count of the votes cast at the primary election, September 19, was completed by the County Commissioners today. It shows a number of changes from the figures as announced following the voting. The returns for "row" offices, nonpartisan judiciary, and for magistrates are as follows:

Table listing candidates and vote counts for various offices including City Treasurer, Judge Common Pleas, and various district offices.

Table listing candidates and vote counts for various offices including City Treasurer, Judge Common Pleas, and various district offices.

Table listing candidates and vote counts for various offices including City Treasurer, Judge Common Pleas, and various district offices.

AZIONI DI ARTIGLIERIA ALLA FRONTE ITALIANA

Una Nave Americana Fa Fuoco per Sbaglio su un Sottomarino Italiano

ROMA, 9 Ottobre. Nessuna operazione di notevole importanza viene segnalata nelle notizie giunte fino a stamani dalla fronte di battaglia italiana, ad eccezione di discreta attivita' da parte dell'artiglieria lungo tutta la fronte.

Sull'altipiano di Bainsizza i reparti italiani in ricognizione hanno compiuto parecchie incursioni con esito favorevole, riuscendo a fare alcuni prigionieri.

Sul Carso alcune pattuglie austriache tentarono di avvicinarsi ai posti avanzati italiani e furono da questi disperse.

Ecco il testo del comunicato del Generale Cadorna, pubblicato ieri sera dal Ministero della Guerra italiano:

Durante la giornata di ieri la nostra attivita' si limito' principalmente ad azioni di artiglieria su tutto la fronte.

Sull'altipiano di Bainsizza i nostri reparti di esplorazione eseguirono delle ricognizioni e pressero alcuni prigionieri.

Sul Carso pattuglie nemiche che tentarono di avvicinarsi alle nostre linee avanzate furono disperse.

Un dispaccio del vice-ammiraglio Sims, ieri giunto al Dipartimento della Marina in Washington, annuncia che una nave esploratrice americana la quale vigliava durante la notte nella zona di guerra, presumibilmente nel mare Adriatico o nel Mediterraneo, ha fatto fuoco sopra un sottomarino italiano il quale non aveva prontamente risposto ai segnali di riconoscimento.

Un ufficiale ed un marinaio rimasero uccisi. Il Segretario Daniels ha subito telegrafato al Ministro della Marina italiana esprimendo a nome del Governo Americano, il suo vivo rincrescimento per il disastroso incidente e le condoglianze per le vittime.

Ecco il testo del telegramma: "Ho appreso con profondo rincrescimento lo sfortunato incidente della nave americana che ha fatto fuoco per un malinteso contro un sottomarino italiano, causando la morte di un ufficiale e di un marinaio italiano.

"Come le nostre navi esploratrici si trovano nelle acque europee principalmente allo scopo di cooperare con le flotte italiane ed alleate nella nostra causa comune, tantopiù profondamente lamento l'incidente in-crescendo. A causa della recente insolita attivita' del sottomarino nemici in questa regione, che ha causato l'affondamento di parecchie navi, la vigilanza e' stata straordinariamente mantenuta, e il fatto sfortunato che la nave esploratrice non ottenne i segnali di riconoscimento richiesti provoco' l'apertura del fuoco. Pregovi accettare da parte della Marina de Guerra Americana sincere e sentite condoglianze per le due vittime."

Un telegramma da Londra dice che il Maresciallo Haig ha risposto l'offensiva questa mattina nel settore di Ypres. La nuova offensiva e' appoggiata sulla sinistra da vivaci attacchi da parte delle forze francesi e belghe che mantengono parte della fronte belga. Il maresciallo Haig annunzia in un suo breve comunicato che le truppe inglesi hanno fatto progressi nonostante il maltempo che imperversa sull'Europa occidentale.

SAMMEES DISPLAY 'OUT-TO-WIN' SPIRIT

Military Tournament at Camp in France Shows Highest Proficiency

By HENRI BAZIN Staff Correspondent of the Evening Ledger with AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 8 (delayed).

The big military tournament, known as divisional field day, was held yesterday with immense success. A big feature was the presence of General Pershing and Sibert and numerous other American generals, besides many French officers. The program consisted of trench digging, defensive work and fire, the Sammees lying flat on the ground under imaginary machine fire; storming of trenches with the bayonet, machine-gun fire, grenade throwing and storming attacks in open and close formations. All the phases of modern war were illustrated. The scene was inspiring. The immense plateau was swept by a strong winter-like wind, but the bright sunshine put action and energy into the work. The earnestness of the Sammees was remarkable. In my opinion they are ready now to go into the trenches.

After the program had been concluded, the winning units were drawn up before the many officers and were addressed by General Pershing, who introduced a Congressman Merrill McCormick, of Illinois.

"You represent," said McCormick, "the spirit of the United States in your work. My aim upon my return home will be to spread the information of your magnetic earnestness, and to make it clear to the American people how you are carrying on the great work of supporting the principles in which our Government was born. I shall urge this point in seeking the undivided encouragement and support of the American people of your future activities here."

General Pershing then spoke. "I am delighted," he said, "with the fine work shown by the officers and men of your division, and particularly with your exhibition today, in which you have exemplified the true fighting attitude. Always remember that you represent the principles upon which the United States was founded. The foes you will meet have been trained for centuries in warfare, that spirit having been imbued in them from birth. Nevertheless, I am confident from what I saw this morning that you are their superior, and that the American 'out-to-win' spirit assures victory." General Pershing then presented the cups to the officers and men of the winning units. He spoke a few confidential words to each as he shook hands with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

BEEF MEN TO HELP BEAT KAISER

Utah Producers Pledge United Support to Food Administration

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Ten thousand Utah beef sugar producers today telegraphed to the food administration resolutions of their support. They stated that they have a surplus of 100,000 tons this year and will plant to the utmost capacity next season.

Food Administrator Armstrong, of Utah, wired "all differences between sugar refiners and farmers have been forgotten, and a contract on a profit-sharing basis agreed upon."

Surrenders After Fusillade George Haskins, thirty-three, of 138 South Fifth street, barricaded himself in a barn near Chester when sought by the police. He submitted to arrest only after his ammunition was exhausted. No one was injured by the fusillade. He is wanted by the police say, for highway robbery in Atlantic City.

Further War on Ticket Scalpers Captain Tals has declared further war on ticket scalpers in this city. He announced that the scalpers selling tickets near amusement places would be arrested. He has had many complaints recently, he explained.

To Discuss Export Licenses A meeting to discuss plans for the exporting license system will be held under the auspices of the Commercial Museum in the Bellevue-Stratford next Thursday afternoon. C. A. Richards, director of the Federal Bureau of Export Licenses, will come from Washington to attend the meeting.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

with the recipient. The correspondence was received by a steward type of American, who blushed as he tucked the lovingly under his arm before entering the consolation cups for second place. Points scored were presented by a French princess, the first woman to visit a section of the camp as an invited guest. She was introduced by General Pershing to the Sammees, who saluted.

Help Stop the Bread Waste

We appeal to the Patriotic housewife: each to help in her own home. Where Freihofer's Liberty Loaf is used, there's no bread going stale, no left-over pieces to worry the housewife, not a bit wasted, but every crumb eaten.

Freihofer's

LIBERTY LOAF

A bread studied out by the Freihofer bakers for conservation of the food supply. Made from a distinctive flour and in a special way, it keeps fresh for days, and has a palate appeal all its own.

"Save a slice of bread a day" by using Freihofer's Liberty Loaf

Large double size loaves, 10c. At your Grocer

